Inland Empire Health Plan, (IEHP) has released a new video: Immunity: Why Vaccines Matter.

While the COVID-19 vaccines are relatively new – the technology and science behind the vaccines have been in development for decades. In the video below, we demonstrate how years of vaccine research and advanced technology allowed researchers and scientists worldwide to be prepared to develop an mRNA vaccine that could help fight the spread of a global infectious disease.

As the video speaks to many of the concerns regarding the rapid rate at which the COVID-19 vaccine was produced, we encourage Providers to share it with Members hesitant to receive the vaccine.
